Housing Agency Director Named

Henry V. Poor has been named director and general counsel of the New York State Housing Finance Agency, it was announced by Housing Commissioner James Wm. Gaynor, Chairman of the agency. The agency was enacted by the 1960 Legislature to encourage construction of middle-income housing by extending mortgage loans to private builders. Funds for the loans will come from the sale of tax exempt, low interest bonds to the investing public. Prior to his appointment to the new agency, Mr. Poor was counsel to the New York State Division of Housing since April, 1959. Before joining the division, Mr. Poor was a partner in the law firms of Greenman, Shea and Zimet, New York City, and Sprague and Stern, Mineola. He also served with the Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, D. C., and the United States Foreign Service.
